

Cheremosh

Rafting on the Cheremosh river (3 days)

Every year in spring when the first breathe of the sunbeams warmth starts to evoke mountains from a long winter sleep the white peaks of the picturesque Carpathians change their snow-white dress into the green one. Thousands of streams flow down the slopes of the mountains singing the winning song of spring and then merging with each other making the rivers turbulent and evoking every living thing around by their noise. They as well as the ancient inhabitants of this region – hutsuls – hospitably invite you to be their guest to experience all the strength and beauty of nature, fill the hearts with the spring joy, clear your thoughts and soul among this wildness and fill yourself with the positive energy fro the whole next year!
