

Creative programs

Such programs involve the participants in the creative process, teach understanding, allow each participant to express himself, discover the previously unknown potential of each person. The basic principle of such programs is “creativity of every person is the one of the team”. The main categories are creativity, innovative solutions, distribution of roles in a new way, confidence in the capabilities of each person, a common tactic. Due to the close creative collaboration in the program the specific long-term emotional working contact among the participants is set.
